STABBED IN A SALOON ROW.

A Felician Burn in a Long Island City Alderman's Place.

In an affray at 8 o'clock this morning in a saloon at Borden and Jackson avenues, Long Island City, kept by Michael F. Clavin, President of the Long Island City Board of Aldermen, Fratman Charles Jensen stabbed Joseph Neumann, a brother of the ex-Assemblyman, in the abdomen.

Jensen and another fireman, Robert McPhail, had been out all night at a fire. When they entered the saloon they had hard words to say, and that McKenna knocked Jensen down and kicked him. McPhail attempted to interfere and was knocked down by a bystander.

It is alleged, Jensen, who was struggling to arise, drew a pocketknife and thrust it into McKenna's abdomen, inflicting a gash about two inches long.

Neumann was assisted to his home, near 65th and a doctor summoned. No arrests have yet been made. There was a brief disturbance in the saloon, but was soon quieted.

The police are investigating the arrest of Jensen and two others who took part in the fight on the charge of assault.

The officers were taken in the hands of the police, and the men will be arrested.

THE WHALEY SIDE-TRUST.

Kentucky Distilleries to Be Controlled by an English Syndicate.

Nathan Rothimer, of 72 Broad street, is to foundry, May 15, concluding a deal by which an English syndicate will secure control of all the Kentucky Bourbon distilleries. The paper will be signed at Cincinnati, O., on Thursday.

The capital of the new syndicate will be between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000, all furnished by London and Liverpool parties, and its headquarters will be in this city and London.

A board of directors will manage the trust, and the profits will be divided pro rata.

Among the distilleries said to be in the deal are those of James E. Pepper & Co. and Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, each of which has a capacity of 25,000,000 gallons. Each firm retains 40 per cent. of its valuation in stock, and will receive 10 per cent. of the total value of the product.

The syndicate will work in harmony with the Whiskey Trust, although not a party to it.
